

Liquid-Tight Strain Relief Kellems Grips

Sumitomo Electric Lightwave's Liquid-Tight Kellems Grips provide a way to effectively seal and anchor the end of a tube-cable to a tube-distribution unit entry point in wet locations. The tube cable end is held firmly in place, while providing the needed strain relief. The liquid-tight grips provide protection from liquids, dust, and other materials from entering the enclosures. Adapter bushings can be used to help seal uniquely shaped tube cables. Additionally, end caps can be utilized to seal unoccupied kellems grips.

BENEFITS

- Helps to Prevent Water and Dust
- Used in Various Wet Locations
- Reduces Tension on Cable and Enclosures
- Suited for Indoor or Outdoor Tube-Distribution Units
- End Caps Provide Additional Protection Before Tube Cables are Installed

FEATURES

- Liquid-Tight Strain Relief
- Galvanized Steel-Mesh Grip Provides Uniformly Distributed Compression
- Tapered Rubber for Uniquely Shaped Tube Cables
- Optional End Caps for Unoccupied Kellems Grips
- No Special Tools Required
